Lake Tahoe Offers a Regional Transportation Guide Through Summer Construction

As multiple expansion projects throughout Lake Tahoe create a more eco-friendly, pedestrian-centered culture, the region provides a transportation guide for traveler efficiency, safety and convenience.

LAKE TAHOE, Calif./Nev. (Summer 2018) — Lake Tahoe’s multi-part regional construction plan adds new roundabouts and pathways, creating improved routes for pedestrians and “human-powered sports.” CALTRANS and NDOT work cooperatively on nine projects to protect the natural environment of Lake Tahoe and improve long-term traffic flow and commuter safety. In anticipation of a high volume of summer travelers, Lake Tahoe offers alternate routes and modes of transportation for those arriving from the Bay Area and the Reno-Tahoe International Airport.

From shuttles and water taxis, to bike paths and seaplanes—below is a transportation guide to and throughout Lake Tahoe.
